FOREWORD

Baldwin County is a result of a very rich history. Around the turn of the century, immigrants from many regions of the United States and from other countries began populating Baldwin County: Italians settled in Daphne, Scandinavians in Silverhill, Germans in Elberta, Poles in Summerdale, Greeks in Malbis Plantation, and Bohemians in Robertsdale, Summerdale, and Silverhill. Adherents of the economic theories of Henry George founded a Single Tax Colony called Fairhope; Friends (Quakers) also settled there, while Hooker Mennonites (Amish) found their way to Bay Minette. Baldwin County a virtual melting pot of people.

Preface

ON JANUARY 17, 2017, THE BALDWIN COUNTY COMMISSION APPOINTED THIRTEEN MEMBERS TO SERVE ON THE ALABAMA 200 BALDWIN COUNTY BICENTENNIAL STEERING COMMITTEE. THE PURPOSE OF THE COMMITTEE WAS TO BRING KNOWLEDGE AND AWARENESS TO BALDWIN COUNTY'S RESIDENTS ABOUT HER HERITAGE. ITS EFFECTIVENESS BEGAN IMMEDIATELY. DURING THIS TIME, THE COMMITTEE STROVE TO ENGAGE RESIDENTS AND VISITORS IN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS, COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES, AND STATEWIDE INITIATIVES DESIGNED TO TEACH, ENTERTAIN, AND INSPIRE PARTICIPANTS.

THIS BOOK WAS CREATED TO NOT ONLY TELL THE STORY OF HOW BALDWIN COUNTY CAME TO BE, BUT TO TELL THE STORY OF HER PEOPLE. FROM THE FIRST SETTLERS AND WARS FOUGHT ON HER SOIL AND WATERS, TO THE SPUR RAIL LINE AND THE MIGRATED FARMERS IT BROUGHT HERE. EVERY PERSON HAD A STORY. EVERY PERSON HAD A DREAM. AND EVERY PERSON HAD AN IMPACT. THESE ARE THE STORIES HANDED DOWN THROUGH GENERATIONS AND TOLD BY THE DESCENDANTS THAT STILL LIVE HERE TO THIS DAY. THESE ARE THEIR STORIES. THE ROOTS OF OUR HERITAGE. THE STORY OF US.

Acknowledgments

We offer special thanks to each descendant who has helped make this publication possible. Without your support and participation, the names and stories of your ancestors might be forgotten.

We'd also like to thank the Alabama 200 Baldwin County Bicentennial Steering Committee. For without their efforts, The Baldwin County Heritage Families Project would never have come to be. It is with great thanks that we offer them recognition for all their hard work and time spent on making this publication possible.

Historical Compilation

Baldwin County has always left a mark on her people. The earliest European explorers detailed the beauty of her thick, rich forests, and mapped her waterways. However, for the most part, they did not make their permanent homes here. On the other hand, people have also left their mark on Baldwin County. Native Americans established communities, ceremonial mounds, and left shell middens all along the coastlines. Likewise, when the county came under the divided rule of Spain, France, and England, white men established several colonies, and awarded numerous land grants. Today, descendants of these early colonials only make up a small part of the county population.

Baldwin County has also had its share of conflict. The Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, Creek Indian Wars, and the Civil War were each fought, in part, on her soil, and in her waters. Each of these historic events involved people who should be remembered, not forgotten.

Early settlers first came to the northern part of the county in the eighteenth century. Having originally been part of the Mississippi Territory, Baldwin County became founded on December 21, 1809, making it older than the state it calls home. Andrew Ellicott marked the boundary between the United States, and Spanish West Florida, by a Mound Line on the 31st parallel, which runs through Stockton. By the time Alabama became a state, on December 14, 1819, the county had extended to the eastern shore of Mobile Bay, and down to the Gulf of Mexico.

Most settlements in Baldwin County grew near places with easy access to the water. Several were colonies, developed by leaders, having the intent to attract people, most sharing similar cultures to their own. Then, with the completion of the spur rail line, which stretched from Bay Minette to Foley, the central part of the county opened up. Thousands of settlers migrated inland to find rich farmland, and make their homes.

By the first part of the twentieth century, Baldwin County had experienced tremendous growth. Towns developed, leaders emerged, and people who considered themselves everyday citizens left their marks as well. The names of people, who have made our county the amazing community that it is, must be preserved. This meager collection is only a drop in the bucket, compared to those who will live on forever as legends in the legacies they have left.

FIRST AMERICAN SETTLEMENT NAMES PRESERVED

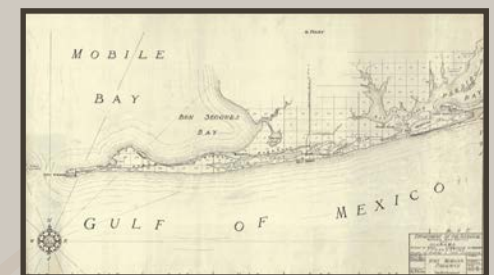

The first American settlements in the county were made on Lake Tensaw and on Tensaw River, mostly by Tory families which migrated from Georgia and South Carolina during the American Revolution, although some came after that struggle, leaving their homes in consequence of Whig intolerance. Intermingled with these Tensaw settlers, however, were Whig families. Some of the family names of the settlers have been preserved—Byrne, Easley, Hall, Kilcrease, Linder, Mims, Pierce, Sibley, Steadham, Stockton and Holmes.

This book will explore the families that settled here more than 100 years ago. This publication is in honor of the people who have made our county the amazing place it is today. We are looking at some of the families who were among the earliest settlers. The Baldwin County Department of Archives and History with the support of the Baldwin County Commission are pleased to be able to sponsor this program. We strive to preserve the legends created by our earliest families. Information in this publication received from descendants of those who helped build this county are treasures that will help tell the story of our history.

The first Europeans to come to our area were French and Spanish. Bienville was said to have stayed in Bon Secour before founding Mobile. It was reported that he had a fishing and hunting camp in Bon Secour for the soldiers from Fort Conde in Mobile.

Bienville had a good relationship with the Native Americans in Baldwin County. His body was tattooed in the local tribal fashion—snakes. Of course, Native Americans who hunted, fished, and farmed this area were abundant. Many inland people came to the shorelines in the summer to gather mussels. They left shell mounds or middens all along the shores of the Gulf of Mexico, Mobile Bay and in the Mobile Delta.

By the time white settlers began to move in, the primary culture was Muskogean or Creek. When Baldwin County was yet a part of the Mississippi Territory, many came from the East Coast which was colonized by the English. These communities were in the northernmost part of the county along the Alabama and the Tensaw Rivers.

Many came by Federal Road which ran from the East Coast to Stockton, the southernmost point in the territorial lands. There were only a few plantations that used slavery as workforce, but some of the earliest residents were indeed slaves. There were many free African Americans who settled here to work in the mills and forest industries as well.

Baldwin County is certainly the home of people with a wide variety of backgrounds and heritage. The Baldwin County Heritage Families Program is a way of preserving the legacies left by our ancestors. The earliest settlers highlighted in this project just scratch the surface of the history of the people of our county.

Many people came to Baldwin County as part of a group of people or a colony. They came because there was a person who purposefully created a community of people with similar backgrounds or nationality heritage. This person or company bought up thousands of acres of land and marketed it particularly to people of distinct cultures.
